Summary of Legislation: (Amended) This bill allows a jury to be informed that a person who may be at fault is immune from liability. The bill repeals a provision that establishes 90-day time limit for filing a nonparty defense in a malpractice case when a claim against a qualified health provider is filed with the Insurance Commissioner.

Effective Date: July 1, 2003.

Explanation of State Expenditures: (Revised) According to the Department of Insurance, the 90-day time limit for filing a nonparty defense provision is obsolete. The bill may increase the total amount awarded to an individual in a civil suit due to the fact that jurors may be informed that an individual is immune from liability. This will not have any effect on the state as it is an immune entity.
